

growing our own educators

Connecting K-12 Students with Alaska Educators and Leaders

Encouraging Student Interest in Higher Education

Providing Youth Leadership Opportunities

Promoting Indigenous-Based Curriculum and Best Practice

Future Educators of Alaska

finding support along the student pathway

Future Educators of Alaska (FEA) operates as a holistic support network comprised of K-12 students, onsite advisors, district coordinators and statewide program staff. The web of connections extends to other valuable community partners including:

The advantages of having a FEA program at your school are priceless. Parents are proud, students are inspired, and a culture of success is fostered through the club. FEA instills students with a desire to return to their own communities to teach.

the Alaska Native Education Association (ANEA), Preparing Indigenous Teachers & Administrators for Alaska Schools (PITAAS), Alaska Native Education Student Association (ANESA), the FEA Planning Group and FEA Advisory Committee, as well as the many communities that support and nurture FEA students. The fostering of prospective Alaska Native teachers and administrators involves a partnership among teachers, communities, school districts, University of Alaska campuses and more!

4 Beneficiaries Across Alaska

Students! FEA provides Alaska Native K-12 students the opportunity to explore what a career in education might be like and to meet other students also interested in education.

Teachers! FEA offers teachers the opportunity to become an advisor and to share their joy of the profession by encouraging Native K-12 students to become educators.

Communities! FEA helps communities “grow their own educators” by nurturing prospective Alaska Native teachers at the local level.

Colleges! FEA supports career development for Alaska Native college students and acts as a bridge for high school students who plan to enter college.

Future Educators of Alaska
UNIVERSITY of ALASKA

PO BOX 755400
Fairbanks, Alaska 99775
www.FutureTeachersAlaska.org